PRINCIPAL D. H. RICH

Competition in the world today is becoming keener and keener. Machinery, as a labor saving device, is supplying at a rapidly increasing rate, more people for every position. Some of these must of necessity be disappointed. It is a desire of everybody to gain the position, not the disappointment.

The greater the individual's preparation, the greater is the chance of reaching this goal of success. Eastern High School offers this preparation to other students as it has been offered to you, the members of the senior class. Here, an attempt is made to instill in the students the idea that they are not merely preparing for life at the present time but they are actually living and are in the process of important development.

Seniors, as you have marched through the different grades of schooling until you have reached this minor goal, the honor of being graduated from Eastern High School, you have been taught that as you conduct yourselves now, so you are building for your future.

Eastern High School swings its doors wide open, welcoming the students so that aid may be given them in the realization of the fact that we are building for life now. It is hoped as you pass from this school, you will go forth with the idea that life is knowledge and the ability to use it and that you will strive to gain even higher goals at all stages of progress.

The citizens of the community have expressed their belief in you and your future by providing such fine facilities as have been yours to use. This feature in itself should lead you to a larger usefulness.

This first edition of the "Lantern" gives a record of your past education and stands as a challenge to those pupils, who are to pass through Eastern High School in years to come, to strive to do even greater things for the community and themselves.

Pleasant, indeed, have been our associations this year at Eastern. The new building has inspired in us a great pride and many fine friendships have been formed, both among students and faculty. However, we do not forget our former friends and we look at this picture just a bit wistfully, for it calls up memories of two years profitably spent under the leadership of the teachers at Central.

We hope that the friendly spirit fostered to such a large degree by Mr. LeFurge, Miss Lott, and Miss Gibbs will continue to exist in both schools.

"HANK" NOVAKOSKI, 170 pound tackle, kept the opposing backfield men in a state of uneasiness most of the time.

BOB KIBBY, 171 pound guard, was always there to meet the center smash of the opposing team. Bob was elected captain of the 1930 team.

"BUD" CUMMINGS, 150 pounds of fast and fearless quarterback, piloted the Eastern aggregation to .500 season average.

ALIC GRILL, 163 pounds of speedy halfback, was always ready to add a thrilling end run to the contest.

FRED VANDERLIP, 160 pounds, was an able and reliable substitute at center.

Yep. This is EVERETT (BENIE) BENEDICT, 150 pounds of wall-like center. Benie played in every game last season.

Here we have JACK HERNLY, 170 pounds of plunging fullback. Jack was Captain of the team.

FRANK JOHNSON, 184 pounds, and a real wall of flesh when at guard.

AL DEBICKI, 160 pounds, played a fine, consistent game at tackle and certainly earned his letter.

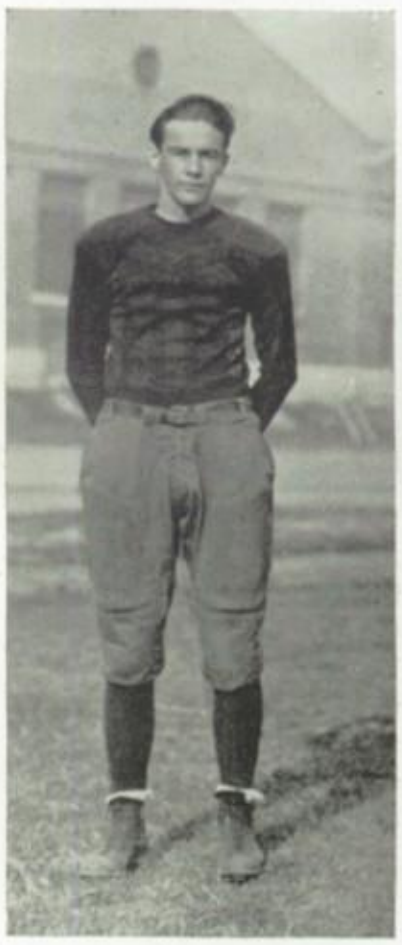
"BOOTS" GAJEWSKI, only 138 pounds, but oh! what a football suit does to his form! "Boots" played a good game at end this season.

CHET ROSS, 183 pounds, and what a fight he could make when an opposing back tried his guard.

"LEFTY" WINGERTER, 135 pound back, was always an able replacement. "Lefty" certainly went hot in the last half of Benton Harbor game.

CECIL HETHORN, just 175 pounds of fearless halfback, certainly did his bit to keep Eastern in the race.

GEORGE SCARLETT, 172 pounds was everything that could be expected of a "sub." George was a relief for guard.



UGO PRICCO, 130 pound end, had arms that were efficient in snaring those long, crowd-raising forward passes.

FOOTBALL

Coach Graff's task of selecting the first football team to represent Eastern High was a rather difficult one. First impressions are likely to be lasting ones and everyone hoped in this first competitive game, the Alma-Eastern game, a worthy precedent might be set. Named the "Quakers" at first because of their settling on Pennsylvania avenue, the spirit shown by the team and student body made possible the addition of one word to the name, the "Fighting Quakers."

About fifty men were numbered in the turnout of the first few days of practice. Besides inheriting such known material as Hernly, Cummings, Debicki, Novakoski, Kibby, Hethorn, all having at least one year of experience, Coach Graff and Assistant Coaches Burnham and Killoran saw promise in Boucher, Campion, Grill, Pricco, Ross, Gajewski, and Benedict.

The first two games, being with Class B schools, Alma and Marshall, did not bring out the real power of the team. In the first game with a Class A school Eastern put up a great fight and the game seemed destined to be a scoreless tie. But Bay City, intercepting a pass in the last few minutes of play, scored a touchdown. The team, determined to regain the confidence of the student body, took the field against Saginaw Arthur Hill with a spirit which could not be beaten. Score 13-0.

In three of the remaining five games Eastern held her opponents to tie scores, with Detroit Southeastern 7-7, Flint Northern 12-12, and Ann Arbor 6-6.

After losing 19-0 to Benton Harbor, whose play was superior, the Quakers met Central in what might have been termed "A Water Carnival." The condition of the field made it impossible for either team to execute plays. After many fumbles and misplays on both sides, Keast of Central, scooped up a blocked punt and raced for a touchdown. Final score 6-0.

Those men receiving the major letter were Hernly (Capt.), Cummings, Wingerter, Vanderlip, Debicki, Hethorn, Pricco, Grill, Benedict, Scarlett, Kibby, Novakoski, Ross, Gajewski and Johnson.

The rest of the squad received the reserve letter R. All these letters are a dark blue body with a narrow gold border.

BASKETBALL

In the turnout for basketball this season, Coach Graff had three regulars from last year's Central quintet and a fine bunch of reserve material from last year. Thus each aspirant was forced to do his best if he had hopes of making the team. In Hernly and Captain Cummings, Coach Graff knew he had a reliable defensive unit.

The first few games were rather raggedly played, but in these games the coaches found the weak points and best combinations which later defeated some of the best in the state. With the coming of the second semester the team suffered a setback when Grill, the center and scoring ace of the team up till this time, became ineligible. But Vanderlip stepped into the center position and, by the end of the season, had carried off the individual scoring honors.

The results of the thirteen games would make an enviable record for any school in its first year. Battle Creek put forth the one team capable of coming out at the long end of the count.

Eastern won the Regional Tournament in Basketball, a fine trophy, and the right to enter the State Tournament at Detroit by defeating Pontiac and Port Huron by good margins. In the State Tournament the Quakers fell a game short of entering the finals. Eastern took the measure of Bay City, 14-11, but bowed to the strong Jackson quintet, 18-13, in the semi-finals.

Varsity letter-men for basketball were: Wingerter, Cummings, Hernly, Pricco, Vanderlip, Moore, Grill.

BASKETBALL RESERVES

The Lansing Eastern Reserves came through with a record equal to that made by the varsity. The Reserves lost to St. Paul's, the second team they met. Probably the reason for this setback is that the team was not organized and the best working combination was not discovered. But after the first game, the results are an unbroken string of decisive victories.

Perhaps the finest conclusion which can be drawn from these results is that Eastern should make a very creditable showing next year, since this reserve squad will be the nucleus around which next year's varsity will be built. Turrill and Stearns will be the only players lost through graduation.

BASKETBALL TROPHY

Here is Eastern's first trophy. And what a pleasing sight it is in our foyer show-cases! In 1929 the Eastern Cagers' wonderful career only ended by defeat at the hands of Jackson men on March 22 at Detroit.

FOOTBALL TROPHY

The silver football trophy is emblematic of the City High School Championship. Central has the honor of first having its name and date engraved on it. This was presented by the National Hat Shop.

YEA EASTERN!

Earl Clark, Victor Spagnuolo, and Junior Neller have in the past done a great deal in arousing spirit and attendance at athletic events. They are willing to do even more; let us stand by them in the future!

SWIMMING TEAM

The team got off to a fine start by winning from Lansing Central and Jackson. But the remainder of the meets were, unfortunately, defeats. Two outstanding stars, Boucher and Novakoski were lost to the team by graduation at the beginning of the second semester. With undaunted spirits the rest of the team went on to do its best, although it meant falling short of victories.

ATHLETIC BOARD OF CONTROL

The Athletic Board of Control is an organization, composed of student and faculty members, whose purpose is to direct and shape the policies of interscholastic athletics.

A few functions of the Board are: confirming letter awards, making schedules and selecting officials. The Varsity Club was organized by the Board and is composed of men who have won their varsity "L" because of service rendered to some athletic team of Eastern High. The club is organized for the purpose of aiding the advancement of athletics and to create a greater friendship among those men who have labored for Eastern on the gridiron, on the basketball floor, in track, and in the swimming pool.

The Board was instrumental in bringing the regional and district basketball tournaments to Lansing Eastern.

The letters chosen by the Board for Eastern are dark blue with a narrow gold border. The captain's letter has a small "C" placed on the lower bar of the "L."

The aim of this club is to bring together those students who are interested in this field of science and by discussions, lectures, and demonstrations increase their knowledge of radio. A second purpose is to train students who wish to apply for an amateur radio operator's license.

Students interested in operating have built a transmitter and receiver to operate on the short waves assigned to the amateur stations. A few are waiting examination papers to qualify them for operator's licenses.

The two clubs of Knights of Industry have done several worth while projects this year. They have studied shop management and safety and have had several interesting speakers in these fields. One guest speaker was C. E. Bement, Vice President and General Manager of the Novo Engine Company, who told "What Industry Expects of Its Employees."

Besides this, the clubs have had a swim in Eastern High School pool, and have organized two baseball teams.

Although it was not generally known, several organizations of the school owe much to the Advertising Club. It was they who advertised the Senior Plays. It was they who advertised the Basketball Tournaments held at Eastern in March.

The club has studied the fundamentals of proper advertising and one Friday during the club period they went on a tour of inspection through the State Journal offices.

The La Coterie Francaise has been most industrious this year. Among their most successful enterprises was the play "Le Voyage de Monsieur Perrichon." This was presented in three scenes in the Little Theatre. The costumes were a great attraction being of the 1860's. The cast was composed of: Alois Staelens—M. Perrichon; Loraine Lapham—Mme. Perrichon; Florence Boynton—Henriette Perrichon; Jack McKeown—Daniel; Lynferd Wickerham—Armand; Ralph Janney—porter; and Frances Arnold—cookie merchant.

The Aviation Club was organized to interest students in this field and to assist those who were already engaged in it. The construction of model planes has kept the members more than busy and several very fine models have been built. Robert Bennett holds the unofficial amateur record in Lansing for an endurance plane.

This Club was organized to teach Chess and Checkers and to improve the games of those already familiar with them. A checker tournament between the members showed that the consistent winners were Vernon Urie, Donald Freshour, Pauline Wise, Mary Chipman and Lyle Hamilton.

Mr. Foust claims that his club stands at the head of the list for popularity. It was the only one appearing in the "first Lantern."

The functions of our governmental institutions have been the chief concern of this serious-minded group. During some of their meetings, they have visited the State Department of Public Safety, Legislature at the Capitol, and the City Hall.

One night, however, at the home of Winifred Foote they showed that they enjoyed the light as well as the serious side of life.

The Science Club has progressed rapidly and has accomplished much. They have had some of the most prominent scientists of Michigan speak before them. Among these were Mr. Gallup, of the State Agricultural Department, who also addressed the whole school at a General Assembly, and Professor Morrison from M. S. C. who lectured on electric discharges through gases.

The activities of this club have attracted much attention throughout the school, and its membership has increased rapidly.

The aim of the Dancing Club has been to learn the theories and fundamentals of dancing and the different types. To follow this up, they have learned an aesthetic and an interpretative dance. At times the butterflies themselves seem clumsy by contrast.

An important club feature for the year was the Maypole Dance given at the Rainbow Party on May tenth.

The club has a very small membership, which in one sense is an advantage for this type of club, for it is possible for all the members to converse in Spanish, an excellent practice for all Spanish students. Spanish games also have been played during the club period.

The club took an active part in the Carnival held May 24th and 25th, by having a booth at which a number of Spanish Candies were sold.

A feature of the programs prepared by the Quaker Business Club for the second semester was a spelling contest. A suitable loving cup was purchased to be awarded to the club member who could successfully "spell down" the club membership. The honor of being the champion speller of the club belongs to Beulah Jensen.

At one meeting the club enjoyed an interesting talk on the travels of a check by Bruce Anderson of the Capital National Bank.

OPERETTA

A lively musical comedy, "Robin Hood, Inc.," was presented by the combined glee clubs of Eastern and Central High Schools on February 14. It delighted the audience, and the modern slang used in the ancient greenwood added a peculiar uniqueness to the comedy of it. Dwight Large took the part of Robin Hood, giving a fine characterization, and was supported by Bernadine Kraus, of Central. Philip Schwartz, portraying the modern business man, gave to the action a refreshing air of youth and modernism. The combined efforts of Miss Muilenburg and Miss Boyce of Central who assisted in the dramatics showed well in the fineness of the production. Beverly Meehan, in two dances gave added enjoyment to the operetta.

Under the capable direction of Miss Muilenburg, the Girls' Glee Club has proved to be a very successful musical organization. The annual operetta, together with several numbers in the May Festival, constituted its most important work during the school year. Several request programs were also sung before local organizations and clubs which testify to the excellence of their music.

In the realm of music, quality counts far more than quantity, and so it is with this organization. These boys, with the help of their director, have laid the foundation of a very promising club and are to be congratulated for their efforts. Almost every member had a part in the annual operetta, "Robin Hood, Inc."

The Student Council is composed of students elected by the home rooms and classes to assist in solving student and school problems. This Council is the center of our Student Government. Among the outstanding achievements of the Council this year are: the elections of the President, the Christmas Decorations, Student Duty Organization, and the creating of Student Government. This group includes both boys and girls who are striving to make our little community at Eastern a better, happier, more beautiful place, to add to the welfare of the students and to help fit them to take responsibilities in and out of school.

FALL SENIOR PLAY

"THE PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BACK"

The "best amateur performance of the year," so called by local critics, was presented by the June Class 1929 on December 7, 1928. A play full of dramatic action, it moved the audience with it as they viewed the changing of a group of dissatisfied people to a family of happy relatives by the influence of the Stranger, who lives on the Third Floor Back. Dwight Large, the Stranger, and the rest of the cast performed so well in their parts that the audience really lived the play through with them until the final curtain dropped.

SPRING SENIOR PLAY

"JANICE MEREDITH"

This, the second Senior play, was presented at the Eastern Auditorium on March 1, by the Class of 1930. A romance of Revolutionary times, it was adapted from Paul Leicester Ford's book of the same name. Velma Bos as Janice Meredith, and Kenneth Wheeler as Charles Fowns, gave real life to the leading roles. Byron Fouts took the part of Philemon Hennion, the witless son of Squire Hennion, very well. The costumes, unusual in this day of brevity, added not a little to the air of romance which was all a part of the Revolutionary period. The orchestra, of both Central and Eastern students, added to the excitement in several tense moments by appropriate numbers.

DEBATE TEAMS

The state question of Ship Subsidy for debate this year has afforded a very interesting season.

The new plan of audience decision was tried and ended quite successfully. Our debates were well attended and there has been a general feeling of interest in the student body.

We owe a great deal to our coach, Mr. Cretcher, through whose efforts our team was so outstanding. Having lost but two debates the team is looking forward to a promising future for Eastern.

Teams which we defeated have gone a long way toward State Championship. Grand Rapids South was one of the finalists in the State Championship with an excellent chance to win.

MERLIN CRANE

Merlin Crane, of the class of January, 1929, will be remembered by students of Eastern in a very special way, because of his connection with the yearbook.

In October, 1928, a contest was held for the purpose of selecting a name for our book. Many good suggestions were sent in but the best of all, "The Lantern," was submitted by Merlin Crane. He obtained this from the first three letters of Lansing and the last four of Eastern. The committee of judges and finally an all-school vote confirmed this choice and the prize has been given him—a copy of this edition of the yearbook with "Merlin Crane" in gold on the cover.

He modestly attributes his choice to luck and in a recent letter he states the wish that our Lantern will shed its kindly yet searching beams on each succeeding class and be a worthy memento for each year of Eastern history.

"THE HOURS I SPENT IN THEE, 210"

Personally, I think the patience of Job has been grossly exaggerated. Far be it from me to minimize the inconvenience of multitudinous boils, but I arise to remark that friend Job never had charge of 210. He was a mere amateur in trials of patience. Also, I give the Whale full credit for his deglutition of that choice morsel, Jonah. But, again---the Whale never had to swallow reasons for locker permits and across-aisle greetings. To these experiences I also owe that impassivity (what a gorgeous word!) of countenance, that wooden-Indian expression, which is so valuable when the fortune-teller is describing the demise of one's third husband (peace to his ashes!).

Self-restraint is developed, when one tries to be a calm, perfect lady while doing a Marathon to the telephone, which never rings until one is at the farthest point.

The soul is fed in 210 as one watches, in the embryonic stages, the Romance that blooms in the spring, tra, la, (also in winter, summer, fall, and all other seasons).

Physically, one benefits by the miles traversed "on the hoof" in 210. Also comes development of Strident Voice, Meat-Ax Expression, and Glassy Eagle-Eye, which fit one to cope with the insistent bond salesman, and the millinery lady who calls one "Dearie."

Perhaps the greatest gains are mental. Mental resourcefulness results from answering questions, ranging from "Why and Wherefore is the Which of What Is It?" or "How Many Bouncing Bacilli can Balance on the Beam in Your Neighbor's Eye?"

Versatility develops. After a semester in 210 the Pedagogus Pedestrianus can qualify as corner cop, manager of information bureau, repair man, janitor, Sherlock Holmes, Swiss bell-ringer, or what haven't you?

Several literary productions, outgrowths of 210 experiences (two hundred ten is a very conservative estimate) will soon be ready for distribution. Among these are:

1. "Conservation of Chewing Gum"—what could Henry Ford do with this waste product? How many times would 210's monthly quota reach to Mars and back? The slogan is "He who Chews should Choose Choosy Froot."
2. A short treatise on "Why is a heel tap?"
3. Essay entitled "Evolution of the Sewing Circle, or What Do They Find to Talk About?"
4. Song---"Yes, We Have No Ink."
5. A Pseudo-Semi-Medical discussion of "The Dangers of Giggle-itis?" This is found in a most virulent form in 210. The masculine form of this is the deadly Haw-Haw.

Herein and thusly are mentioned a few of the gains received in the Hours I Spend in Thee, Dear Hall.

THINK THIS OVER

As to sale of ABILITY!

What is your earning power worth?

If you can earn $100.00 per month for one year, your invested capital (ABILITY) is equivalent to $20,000.00 invested at 6% for one year. Your potential earning power therefore is of your own creation based on the value of a dollar.

How can you stabilize this assurance?

Here is how it has been done--

Train for a salable vocation by entering and completing a business course.

We are offering these courses which are salable in any American market when thoroughly completed at a definite price.

STENOTYPY — (secretarial), BOOKKEEPING, SHORTHAND — (secretarial), C. P. A. — (certified public accountant), BANKING, MANUFACTURING COST, CLERICAL, SALESMANSHIP, TYPEWRITING, and their kindreds.

Blond or brunette, it matters not, you can collect on this training. (High school commercial credits recognized).

Strand Arcade Building

A superior location is all important to a business institution. An address is indicative of success and stability. An environment of conservatism and association with established oraganizations—are weighed when selecting a business home. Mature judgment, therefore, prizes highly the right location, in itself a substantial asset.

The Strand Arcade Building, apart from its central and well known location, will offer every modern convenience in keeping with the standards of an office building of the highest character.

Everywhere in America Thousands of

Satisfied Owners Proclaim These

Two Outstanding Cars Unmatched for Value

EQUALLY sensational in appearance, luxury, comfort and performance, the Viking Eight and the Oldsmobile Six have brought new standards of value to automobile buyers throughout America.

Satisfied owners everywhere enthusiastically acclaim these two cars. The Viking, the 90-degree V-type eight at medium price, has been developed on time-tried fundamentals of design and brought to a high stage of development by new engineering advancements. The Oldsmobile Six, the fine car of low price, has been thoroughly established as a great success by millions of miles of driving.

Both are products of General Motors, built by Oldsmobile; and both are unmatched for value in their price fields.

The Viking offers new qualities of performance . . . new tailored smartness . . . new luxury and comfort to the medium price field. Its beauty of line is the most recent expression of Fisher Body artistry.

The Viking engine delivers full 81 horsepower with exceptional smoothness throughout the entire speed range. Its response to the throttle is remarkable. Its top speed is more than ample for any emergency. And it provides a mighty power reserve for steep hills, long grades and hard pulling.

The Oldsmobile Six now offers greater value than ever before. Now, more than ever, it achieves Oldsmobile's ambition to build a car for the American family that, at moderate price, gratifies their finer tastes as well as satisfies their every need.

New style . . . new smartness . . . new refinements feature Oldsmobile's beautiful bodies by Fisher. Interiors are spacious, with plenty of leg and head room. Seats are wide and deep-cushioned. Upholsteries and appointments are more luxurious than ever. And Oldsmobile's big, high-compression engine now delivers 62 horsepower—combining remarkable speed, power and acceleration with sterling dependability and long life.

Two great names . . . two great cars. Drive them and judge them by your own standards of appearance, performance and value. Compare them, point for point, with other cars in their respective price fields. Learn why thousands are proclaiming them unmatched for value.

THE POSTSCRIPT

Now wasn't it a good book? Let's take a long breath and go all over it again. Or did you begin at the back and go toward the front? That's what I did so as to get the good postscript first. In a letter the postscript is always the best.

You didn't get the blues seeing so much blue did you? Blue school, blue moon, blue Lantern, blue heaven, and all. At least, Mr. Rich is not blue. In fact, he seems quite rosy as to the future prospects of the school.

The faculty all seem as dignified as ever. I read somewhere that faculty are not to be leaders any more but guides. Hence they should be labelled "Guiders" instead of faculty. Whose is the compliment when the Seniors look as dignified as the "Guiders"?

I looked in vain through the activities for the activity that we see in the halls. How about the locker dates and hall strolls. They are activities of no mean note. It takes some active party to always meet in the halls of this school. Perhaps make a mile in five minutes. The walking would be helped if you get the "one friend" to take classes on your floor; say a schedule of Algebra V, Geometry, Spanish I, World History and 3-11.

To go back to the Lantern, I wish "the Future Teachers of Eastern" were nearer the front, for they are worth it; and if only one of the faculty had had her picture taken with her hat on—just by way of variety.

Before I forget, have you found the picture of the locker lock? It's a real good book. Let's take a second breath and begin again.
